A Shadow.

[From Belford's Magazine for November, '90]
 Why should a shadow come to me now
 When the twilight winds of the summer sway
 The tremulous leaves of the poplar bough,
 And the climbing clematis spray?
 Twittering swallow, blithe of wing,
 You cast the shadow across the blue;
 Only a space do you sing and sing,
 And the summer goes with you.

MUSIC.

Amid the din the human soul lies sleeping;
 Some sweet accord is heard, when, with a bound,
 It rises to its feet; the human eyes are weeping,
 And this is music, all the rest is sound.

WM. CHADWICK CULSTEAD.

ELECTRICITY FROM A ROCK—L. A. Dixon of Sodus N. Y., has just discovered a wonderful ore called "electric rock," which contains a hidden force that puzzles and astounds all who see it, and expert electricians in particular. The rock is of a dark slate color, and is somewhat lighter in weight than sandstone. It is composed of iron, aluminum, calcium and other minerals, and particles of gold are also found sometimes. Mr. Dixon says it will generate unlimited power and give any desired amount of incandescent light. For illuminating business places and residences it would be considerably cheaper than kerosene—in fact, after a building had been wired and the batteries prepared the cost would be merely nominal and the light would be equal if not superior to that produced by manufactured electricity. The making of a battery is very simple. The rock, in the quantity and for whatever purpose desired, is placed in a jar containing a solution, the chief ingredients of which are salt and water. The circuit is then completed, and the inventor claims that one charge of 400 pounds of rock will last and produce light or power for at least one year before losing its force, and that it is perfectly harmless, making insulation entirely unnecessary. In Mr. Dixon's office a nine pound piece of the rock has been ringing a bell since last November. A piece weighing half a pound was placed in a pint tumbler and the wires attached to a call bell, which is caused to ring as loud as an alarm clock. The test was made in the presence of several gentlemen, who pronounced it a wonderful discovery.

Lead Poison Cured.

I am a painter by trade. Three years ago I had a bad case of Lead Poison, caused by using paint. I was cured in a short time by S. S. S. The medicine drove the poison out through the pores of the skin. My system was so saturated with poison that my underclothes were colored by the paint being worked out by the medicine through the pores of my skin. I was cured entirely by S. S. S., and have had no return since. C. PARK LEAK, Waynesville, Ohio.
